

RHETORICAL CONTENTS

Preface to the Instructor xii

Preface to the Student xiv

Introduction: Thinking, Reading, and Writing 1

Thinking Critically 2

Reading Critically 4

Preparing to Read 4

Reading 7

Rereading 12

Reading Inventory 15

Writing Critically 16

Preparing to Write 17

Writing 23

Rewriting 25

Writing Inventory 26

Conclusion 29

PART I: Non-Fiction (The Essays)

CHAPTER 1

Description: Exploring Through the Senses 30

Defining Description 30

Thinking Critically by Using Description 32

Reading and Writing Descriptive Essays 33

Student Essay: Description at Work 38

Some Final Thoughts on Description 40

Description in Review 41

LESLEY CHOYCE Thin Edge of the Wedge 42

Choyce's essay uses poetic descriptive language to bring alive the vital forces at work in a small corner of Nova Scotia.

TOMSON HIGHWAY What a Certain Visionary Once Said 46
 In this descriptive essay, Tomson Highway paints a vivid picture of the landscape, climate, and wildlife of the Canadian North.

DAVE BIDINI Kris King Looks Terrible 50
 The sights, smells, sounds, and tastes of hockey in a Hong Kong arena come alive in this humorous excerpt from Tropic of Hockey.

RAY GUY When Jannies Visited 58
 Ray Guy treats the reader to an amusing view of his Newfoundland boyhood and the Christmas tradition of mumming.

CHAPTER 2

Narration: Telling a Story 68

Defining Narration 68
 Thinking Critically by Using Narration 70
 Reading and Writing Narrative Essays 71
 Student Essay: Narration at Work 75
 Some Final Thoughts on Narration 77
 Narration in Review 77

ALLEN ABEL A Home at the End of the Journey 79
 What does it mean to be a Canadian? Allen Abel takes the reader to his Oath of Citizenship ceremony.

STEVEN HEIGHTON Elegy in Stone 84
 The author, a poet and short story writer, recounts the moving experience of visiting Vimy Ridge. Heighton's visit leads to reflections on Canada's participation in WWI and the essential nature of Canada and Canadians.

EVELYN LAU I Sing the Song of My Condo 92
 In her mid-twenties, Evelyn Lau decided to take the plunge into home ownership. This essay tells the story of her year of searching for a condominium.

BRIAN LEWIS Teeth 99
 The writer, a former MLA in the Northwest Territories, tells the story of the significance of a small necessity of life to a Native Canadian and to a group of government officials.

ALISON WEARING Last Snowstorm 105
 Best known for her book about travelling through Iran, in this essay travel writer Alison Wearing relates the story of taking her son on a visit to Montreal.

CHAPTER 3

Example: Illustrating Ideas 111

Defining Examples	111
Thinking Critically by Using Examples	113
Reading and Writing Essays That Use Examples	114
Student Essay: Examples at Work	117
Some Final Thoughts on Examples	119
Example in Review	119

LYNN COADY Genius or Madness? 121

Award-winning novelist Lynn Coady offers us some thoughts about socially acceptable behaviour and society's perceptions of those who don't always conform.

SHARON BUTALA The Myth: The Prairies Are Flat 125

Prairie writer Butala tackles a common misperception about her region of Canada.

CECIL FOSTER Why Blacks Get Mad 130

Using strongly affective examples drawn from his own and his family's lives, Foster speaks forthrightly and personally of the insidious presence of racism in everyday life in Canada.

MARK KINGWELL Not Available in Stores 138

Yours for only three easy payments of 39.99 ... In this essay, Mark Kingwell, in a column for Saturday Night, outlines the appeal and the changing nature of infomercials.

CHAPTER 4

Process Analysis: Explaining Step by Step 147

Defining Process Analysis	147
Thinking Critically by Using Process Analysis	149
Reading and Writing Process Analysis Essays	150
Student Essay: Process Analysis at Work	154
Some Final Thoughts on Process Analysis	155
Process Analysis in Review	155

PAUL QUARRINGTON Home Brew 157

What golden beverage is a Canadian institution? How do you make this product yourself? The answers to these and other questions are amusingly offered for your enjoyment in Quarrington's essay.

MALCOLM GLADWELL Is the Belgian Coca-Cola Hysteria the Real Thing? 167

The author of The Tipping Point focuses his attention on the phenomenon of mass hysteria and the case of the smelly Belgian Coca-Cola.

STANLEY COREN Dogs and Monsters 172

What's all the fuss about genetic engineering? Scientist, author, professor, and television host Stanley Coren walks us through the history of dog breeding.

MAUREEN LITTLEJOHN You Are a Contract Painkiller 177

Canadians consume almost one billion Aspirin or ASA tablets each year. In this essay, Maureen Littlejohn considers exactly how ASA works and traces its history in medicine.

JOE FIORITO Breakfast in Bed 181

Award-winning columnist Joe Fiorito shares a recipe for popovers and explains why they are perfect fare for breakfast in bed.

CHAPTER 5

Division/Classification: Finding Categories 185

Defining Division/Classification 185

Thinking Critically by Using Division/Classification 187

Reading and Writing Division/Classification Essays 188

Student Essay: Division/Classification at Work 191

Some Final Thoughts on Division/Classification 193

Division/Classification in Review 193

DAVID FOOT Boomers Dance to a New Beat 195

Boom, Bust and Echo, Foot's best-selling book, explains the effect of demographics on Canadian societal and economic trends. In this essay, Foot gives us an overview of the demographic patterns in Canada and the way they influence our society.

AMY WILLARD CROSS Life in the Stopwatch Lane 200

When was the last time you said you didn't have time? In this amusing article Amy Willard Cross classifies time according to the ways that we spend it.

- GWYNNE DYER Flagging Attention 205
 What is your favourite flag in the whole world? Gwynne Dyer considers the design of various national flags.
- SUSAN SWAN Nine Ways of Looking at a Critic 210
 Writer Susan Swan describes the ideal reviewer along with eight types of reviewers that writers are less fortunate to encounter.
- CHAPTER 6
-
- Comparison/Contrast: Discovering Similarities and Differences 217
- Defining Comparison/Contrast 217
 Thinking Critically by Using Comparison/Contrast 219
 Reading and Writing Comparison/Contrast Essays 220
 Student Essay: Comparison/Contrast at Work 226
 Some Final Thoughts on Comparison/Contrast 227
 Comparison/Contrast in Review 227
- CHARLOTTE GRAY The Temple of Hygiene 229
 More than anything, Charlotte Gray wants to visit a traditional Japanese bathhouse. In seeking this experience she learns a great deal about Japanese culture.
- WILL FERGUSON The Sudbury Syndrome 238
 Sudbury as a tourist destination? In "The Sudbury Syndrome," an excerpt from his book Why I Hate Canadians, Will Ferguson takes a humorous look at the changing faces of many Canadian communities.
- GLORIA STEINEM The Politics of Muscle 247
 Feminist Gloria Steinem examines the muscle-bound world of women's bodybuilding and discovers that strength means sexual power.
- MICHAEL MCKINLEY Opera Night in Canada 255
 According to Michael McKinley, hockey and opera may have a lot more in common than you realize.
- EVAN SOLOMON The Babar Factor 260
 How do video games measure up against more traditional forms of entertainment and education for children? In this essay Evan Solomon compares Super Mario and Sonic the Hedgehog to Babar, hero of traditional children's stories, and finds that the elephant king reigns supreme.

CHAPTER 7

Definition: Limiting the Frame of Reference 267

Defining Definition	267
Thinking Critically by Using Definition	268
Reading and Writing Definition Essays	269
Student Essay: Definition at Work	272
Some Final Thoughts on Definition	274
Definition in Review	274

DREW HAYDEN TAYLOR Pretty Like a White Boy: The Adventures of a Blue-Eyed Ojibway 276

Like Kermit the Frog, Drew Hayden Taylor doesn't always find it easy to live with the way that he looks. In this essay he discusses the difficulties of not "looking the part."

WAYSON CHOY I'm a Banana and Proud of It 283

"Banana" is the endearing nickname given to children of Chinese heritage who have assimilated into North American life. In this essay Wayson Choy talks about the history of Chinese immigrants to Canada and his role as a "banana."

MICHAEL CLUGSTON Twice Struck 288

Michael Clugston investigates the phenomenon of lightning to discover how it generates the universal responses of wonder and respect.

NEIL BISSOONDATH Pieces of Sky 293

What qualities or values are distinctly Canadian? In this essay Bissoondath reflects on the values that create our Canadian culture.

CHAPTER 8

Cause/Effect: Tracing Reasons and Results 301

Defining Cause/Effect	302
Thinking Critically by Using Cause/Effect	304
Reading and Writing Cause/Effect Essays	305
Student Essay: Cause/Effect at Work	309
Some Final Thoughts on Cause/Effect	311
Cause/Effect in Review	311

STEPHEN KING Why We Crave Horror Movies 313

Seen any good movies lately? Best-selling author Stephen King explains why we are so fascinated with movies that appeal to our darker instincts.

- TRINA MCQUEEN Why We Crave Hot Stuff 318
 Why are we attracted to stories about fascinating people, scandal, and difficult moral issues? Trina McQueen considers the appeal of “hot-stuff stories” and the role of ethics in journalism.
- LAURA ROBINSON Starving for the Gold 326
 A former competitive athlete, Laura Robinson exposes the serious problem of abuse and eating disorders in the sports world.
- KIM PITTAWAY Dead Wrong 335
 Are you drawn to celebrity funerals? Do you feel a need to participate in the grieving that follows large-scale public tragic events? In this essay, Kim Pittaway makes a case for public grieving.
- TONY LEIGHTON The New Nature 339
 Is seeing really believing? Is a picture still worth a thousand words if it has been digitally altered? Find out how digital imaging is changing our sense of reality and our ability to believe our own eyes.

CHAPTER 9

Argument/Persuasion: Inciting People to Thought or Action 351

- Defining Argument/Persuasion 351
 Thinking Critically by Using Argument/Persuasion 354
 Reading and Writing Persuasive Essays 355
 Student Essay: Argument/Persuasion at Work 360
 Some Final Thoughts on Argument/Persuasion 362
 Argument/Persuasion in Review 363

- JENNIFER COWAN TV Me Alone 365
 What do you think of TV in public places? Jennifer Cowan makes television, but here she argues that TV has a time and a place, and that that is where it should be kept.

- LAWRENCE SOLOMON Too Much Privacy Can Be Hazardous to the Person 369
 Where do we draw the line between invasion of privacy and free speech? How much of your personal information is stored on various computer databases? Lawrence Solomon presents an argument in favour of the collection of personal information.

- JUDY REBICK The Culture of Overwork 376
 Judy Rebick argues against the growing culture of overwork and prescribes action to counter this unhealthy trend.

DAVID SUZUKI The Right Stuff 380

What do you remember from your high school science classes? David Suzuki proposes a curriculum change that will use “the right stuff” to generate student interest.

Opposing Viewpoints: Wearing the Veil 385

In this pair of essays, Lemon and Mustafa present two quite different views of the traditional Muslim headscarf and what it represents.

MICHELE LEMON Understanding Does Not Always Lead to Tolerance 385

NAHEED MUSTAFA My Body Is My Own Business 388

CHAPTER 10

Documented Essays: Reading and Writing from Sources 393

Defining Documented Essays 393

Reading and Writing Documented Essays 395

Student Essay: Documentation at Work 401

Some Final Thoughts on Documented Essays 406

Documented Essays in Review 407

BARBARA EHRENREICH The Ecstasy of War 409

Do men and women possess a natural “warrior instinct” that enables them to kill their enemies during battle? Not so, claims Barbara Ehrenreich, though many social and cultural rituals help transform ordinary people into effective soldiers.

MARILYN DAHL The Role of the Media in Promoting Images of Disability—Disability as Metaphor: The Evil Crip 418

In this documented essay Marilyn Dahl explores the ways that the media shapes our images of people with disabilities.

PART II: Fiction (The Stories)

CHAPTER 11

The Stories	427
DAVID ARNASON A Girl's Story	428
MARGARET ATWOOD Death by Landscape	437
T. CORAGHESSAN BOYLE Greasy Lake	456
JOHN BROOKE The Finer Points of Apples	467
KATHERINE GOVIER The Immaculate Conception Photography Gallery	481
ELIZABETH HAY Cézanne in a Soft Hat	492
ALISTAIR MACLEOD As Birds Bring Forth the Sun	496
ALICE MUNRO Boys and Girls	505
CAROL SHIELDS Windows	520
TIMOTHY TAYLOR Doves of Townsend	529
Credits	553
Index of Authors and Titles	556